

DEPARTMENT OF NURSING AND HEALTH SCIENCES
FACULTY OF SCIENCE, APPLIED SCIENCE & ENGINEERING
UNB SAINT JOHN

Applications are invited for two tenure-track appointments at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Nursing and Health Sciences. These positions involve classroom, practice and laboratory teaching responsibilities in the undergraduate program. We are most interested in individuals who have a proven track record in research and teaching excellence, with a clinical focus in a variety of practice areas. The successful candidates must hold a PhD with a graduate degree in nursing. Individuals who are near completion of their PhD are encouraged to inquire prior to submitting an application. Candidates for this position must be eligible for registration with the Nurses Association of New Brunswick and hold registration prior to appointment. Registration must be maintained throughout employment. These positions are anticipated to commence on July 1, 2017 and are subject to final budgetary approval.

Our vision is to be the program of choice for nursing by seeking, applying and advancing nursing knowledge through exceptional and transformative teaching-learning experiences. The Department of Nursing and Health Sciences is part of a fully nationally accredited and approved provincial nursing program offering Bachelor of Nursing (BN) and Bachelor of Health Sciences degrees. There are three entrance options into the BN program: a basic four-year full-time stream; a post-Registered Nurse; and a Licensed Practical Nurse to BN pilot. The Department also collaborates with the Faculty of Nursing at UNB Fredericton to offer a graduate nursing program. Faculty members also have the opportunity to become a member of the Graduate Academic Unit within the Faculty of Nursing, University of New Brunswick, Fredericton. The Department of Nursing and Health Sciences also has Evidence Synthesis Group status with the Joanna Briggs Institute, and is home to the Jarislowsky Chair in Interprofessional Patient-Centred Care.

The University of New Brunswick Saint John is situated at Tucker Park and participates in an interprofessional educational approach for healthcare students. The university is adjacent to the Saint John Regional Hospital – the province’s tertiary care centre, Dalhousie Medical New Brunswick, and New Brunswick Community College Allied Health Programs. The city of Saint John has all the amenities of a large urban centre but maintains the friendliness and charm of a small city. Situated on the Bay of Fundy, Saint John is well-known for its historic architecture, high tides, thriving arts and culture community.

Review of applications will begin March 18, 2017. Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement outlining nursing practice expertise, teaching interests and program of research, along with the names and contact information of three references to:

Cathy O’Brien-Larivee
Chair, Department of Nursing & Health Sciences
University of New Brunswick
P.O. Box 5050, Saint John, New Brunswick, E2L 4L5
E-Mail: nursingsj@unb.ca
Fax: 506-648-5784

Only short-listed candidates will be contacted for an interview. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Applicants should indicate current citizenship status. The University of New Brunswick is committed to the principle of employment equity.