Dear Nurse Educator

The Canadian Nurses Protective Society invites you to attend the Legal Education Program for Nurse Educators – a new initiative specifically created for nurse educators.

Understanding that nurse educators play a fundamental role in shaping the development of future nursing professionals, the CNPS would like to support this mandate by providing timely information on key legal issues that are relevant to the nursing profession.

The Legal Education Program for Nurse Educators is a webinar series beginning in January 2018. Each 45-minute session will examine one key legal issue and provide important legal updates. We may offer additional sessions if new critical developments emerge and there is a demand for it. The topics for this first installment of the program are as follows:

Social Media in Professional Practice – the Courts' Perspective

January 31, 2018, 12:00 – 12:45 PM EST

The law surrounding the use of social media is constantly evolving. While today's nursing students may be effective and keen users of social media, are they fully aware of the current privacy issues and legal risks associated with its use?

Cosmetic Nursing – Facing the Risks

February 28, 2018, 11:00 – 11:45 AM EST (12:00 – 12:45 PM AST)

Private clinics and spas are actively recruiting nurses to assist with cosmetic procedures. Before entering into a professional agreement to provide cosmetic procedures, nurses should be aware of the legal implications.

Charting by Exception – Getting it Write

March 21, 2018, 2:00 – 2:45 PM EDT (12:00 – 12:45 PM MDT)

Charting by exception is a practice that is used in many different settings. The Courts regularly comment on the quality of documentation. Learn more about the Courts' perspective on charting by exception.

Cost: This webinar series is free to CNPS beneficiaries.* Nurses who are not CNPS beneficiaries are invited to attend these webinars for $29 plus applicable taxes per webinar.

For more information or to register, visit www.cnps.ca/educator.

Please feel free to share this information with your nurse educator colleagues.

*RNs and NPs eligible for CNPS services and legal assistance are referred to as "beneficiaries" of the CNPS. Any RN or NP practicing in Canada may become a CNPS beneficiary.
