

DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY
School of Nursing

Limited Term Appointment at the Rank of Lecturer or Assistant Professor

Dalhousie University School of Nursing is seeking outstanding scholars for two full-time, two-year, Limited Term positions at the rank of Lecturer or Assistant Professor. The anticipated start dates for the positions are: first position with a start date January 1, 2019; and second position with a start date July 1, 2019. All appointments are subject to final budgetary approval.

At the time of appointment, successful candidates must hold a Nurse Practitioner license and at minimum a Master's degree in Nursing. Competitive applicants will have demonstrated a commitment to excellence in their practice; interest in teaching in the MN-NP program; articulate the NP role, person centered care, how interprofessional teams function effectively; the ability to introduce evidence-based research into practice areas and; skill in assessing and recognizing population health trends. Preference will be given to those with a Doctorate degree in a health-related discipline.

The primary responsibilities of the successful candidate will include teaching graduate students and contributing to service of the School. The School is looking for a practicing Nurse Practitioner currently holding, or eligible for a university faculty appointment to educate and prepare nurses for advanced practice as Nurse Practitioners. The successful candidate must be able to demonstrate recent evidence of NP clinical practice, preferably with a focus in Family of All Ages and Primary Health Care and, be eligible for registration as a NP with the College of Registered Nurses of Nova Scotia. A background in some combination of leadership, knowledge mobilization, diversity and inclusiveness in healthcare, interprofessional education and distance and context-based learning, and/or clinical simulation would be assets.

A complete application is comprised of:

- A cover letter outlining your experience, major contributions to teaching and practice, and the contribution you envisage making to the School, the discipline and the profession;
- A copy of your curriculum vitae;
- Name and contact information of three referees
- Copies of previous teaching evaluations; and
- A completed Self-Identification Questionnaire, which is available at www.dal.ca/becounted/selfid

All applications must be submitted electronically to Coleen van Loggerenberg Administrative Manager, Dalhousie University School of Nursing, at hracr@dal.ca. Please ensure that the cover letter makes reference to Job Posting CvL/Limited TermNP. Deadline for applications is 4:00pm, Friday, February 1, 2019. Incomplete applications will not be considered. We thank all applicants for their interest. Only applicants selected for an interview will be contacted. New career opportunities are posted on the Dalhousie Website as they become available. Please check back often to view our latest postings.

Dalhousie University is committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. The university encourages applications from Aboriginal people, persons with a disability, racially visible persons, women, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and all candidates who would contribute to the diversity of our community. All candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.