

Full-Time Tenure-Track Position in Nursing

Trinity Western University's School of Nursing is currently seeking applications for a full-time tenure-track nursing faculty at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor.

Since it was founded in 1962, Trinity Western has been a leader for Christian liberal studies in Canada. Recognized for quality, TWU has received more consecutive A+ rankings for Quality of Teaching and Learning than any other Canadian university, holds four Canada Research Chairs, and wins national championships in Canadian Interuniversity Sport. More importantly, lives are changed at TWU through its whole-person, Christ-centred approach to education. With a wide array of undergraduate, graduate, and adult degree-completion programs, TWU equips leaders of character and competence to make a positive impact in the lives of others. TWU is a member of Universities Canada. For more information about Trinity Western University see www.twu.ca.

A nursing faculty in the TWU School of Nursing is part of a vibrant community of nurse-scholars committed to excellence in nursing education and spiritual-intellectual integration. This is an exciting period of growth, including the anticipated launch of a PhD Nursing program, and expansion of the MSN program. As a full-time member of this community, faculty teach in their area of expertise, engage in an active program of scholarship, practice in an area of clinical expertise (where relevant), and serve in various professional and academic capacities.

HOURS: Full-time (tenure-track)

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Teach in graduate and undergraduate programs
- Contribute to program evaluation and curriculum development
- Maintain an active program of scholarship
- Serve on School of Nursing, University, and other professional committees

QUALIFICATIONS:

- PhD required (may be in progress).
- Registration with the British Columbia College of Nurses and Nurse Practitioners (or eligible for registration).
- Teaching experience at graduate and undergraduate levels, and experience in mentoring and supervision of graduate students.
- Evidence of excellence in teaching must be provided through a teaching dossier that outlines the teaching philosophy, teaching accomplishments, including experience with course/curriculum review/development, excellent pedagogical practice, sample syllabi and teaching evaluations.
- Established program of scholarship, including the scholarship of Christian integration.
- Effective communication and interpersonal skills.
- Knowledge of current trends in nursing and nursing education.

PREFERABLE QUALIFICATIONS:

- Expertise in nursing education administration, nursing leadership, and/or health policy
- Record of scholarship, including publications and presentations.

ORGANIZATIONAL RELATIONSHIPS: Reports to Dean, School of Nursing, with additional oversight from the MSN Director.

PROJECTED START DATE: Negotiable; Preferred August 16th, 2019

Interested candidates are requested to complete the on-line application by clicking here. Applications will be accepted until a suitable candidate is found, subject to budget approval. In addition to your curriculum vitae, your online application should also include documentation outlining your area(s) of interest, major contributions to teaching, research and practice as well as verification of your degree. Specific queries regarding this position may be directed to judy.bartram@twu.ca. More information about Trinity Western's School of Nursing and its programs can be found at www.twu.ca/nursing.

Trinity Western University encourages applications from all eligible candidates who are able to commit to the university's mission, values, and Christian identity as articulated in its Statement of Faith (scroll down) and Community Covenant (scroll down). We are committed to an ethic of inclusion and to the equal treatment of all persons without discrimination in accordance with human rights law.

We particularly invite applications from indigenous people, women, persons with disabilities, and visible minorities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations during the application process should contact Judy Bartram in the Office of the Provost.

Trinity Western University is located on the traditional and ancestral territory of the Sto:lo people.