Multipad1 Review :

This is a valuable device for students to practice clinical skills in and outside of the lab setting. Ideal for intermediate to advanced nursing students, we encourage students to purchase the Multipad to help develop mastery of critical skills such as venipuncture, injections and wound care through repetitive practice. This can be used for training, practice, assessment and remediation purposes through multiple years of their undergraduate education. The Multipad is made of high quality and durable material that will withstand the regular use needed as the student progresses through the nursing program.

Multipad 2 Review :

There is nothing else currently available that is as versatile as the Multipad 2! Great for novice to senior nursing students, this realistic multiuse task trainer is ideal for training, practice, assessment and remediation of key clinical skills. Ideal for both online and face-to-face learning, the Multipad 2 provides important opportunities for repetitive practice. It is also a valuable resource to support students when they are preparing for skills testing such as sterile technique (wound care, urinary catheterization) or simply for mastery of clinical skills. The Multipad 2 can withstand the frequent use needed as student progress through the nursing program.
